KEY BOARD KNIGHTS.

Their Struggle With the Powerful Corporation.

Both Sides Claim a Victory, But That of the Western Union Is Rather Slim—No One Knows How Long It Will Last.

NEW YORK, July 19.—At precisely 12 o'clock, Washington reckoning, several hundred operators in the Western Union Telegraph room laid down their utensils and started for the halls. Superintendent Humeston, who was present, said the number to leave was about what had been expected from reports made to the company.

In the operating room were stationed several policemen, and these, together with the officials who were present, asked the strikers to move out as rapidly as possible and to leave the building. Operators who remained at their keys did very little work at first, and were interested spectators.

Long lines of operators were soon filing down stairs. On their faces were depicted various emotions. A majority were hilarious, but there were not wanting those whose features bore traces of uncertainty and fear for the future.

There was no disturbance on the Am. Press Association wires which tap Washington, Baltimore & Philadelphia with their tributary territory, those wires being manned by Press Association telegraphers, who have made no demand and have no grievance.

The general sentiment of the operators and officials was that the news of the country would be taken care of, operators having only the kindest feeling for the press.

CINCINNATI, July 19.—The Western Union had 98 operators in the main office at Fourth and Vine, and forty in the branch offices throughout the city, with about seventy-five linemen, etc. The B. & C. had fifteen operators and twenty-five men altogether, while the Mutual Union only employed seven. The Telegraphic Brotherhood has 175 members, but embraces others employed in the offices besides operators. There were a few operators in the city who were not members, and taking those and some old operators, Mr. Paige has secured about twenty-five, with whom he will do the best he can.

The present strike, being general, is much larger and more important than that of 1870. Fully 85 per cent of the 15,000 Western Union operators belong to the Brotherhood, a much larger proportion than the company supposed.

At the preconcerted signal all was in readiness, and when the hands of the clock reached 11:30 a.m., fifty-six of the Western Union operators stood up and left the office, leaving twelve men to attend to the business of the day. "Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching," sang out one of the fifty-six, as the cavalcade filed down the stairs. Another of the poets, who shall be nameless, as his life is not assured, sang:

The key and the sounder are mute on the shelf
Where they clicked like repeaters before,
And the operator now will look out for himself,
Leaving Jay Gould to die sore.

For his profits so thundering
On tick, tick, tick, tick;
His employee plundering
On tick, tick, tick, tick,
Have stopped short, not to go again
Till he pays the operators more.

This was received with loud encores, and the verse will be repeated ad libitum and ad nauseum.

At the Mutual Union the whole seven adjourned to discuss their prospects as strikers, leaving no one to look after the interests of the office but the boy who sweeps out and the cat.

At the same hour the whole B. & C. force, 15 in number, arose, bowed three times to the east, solemnly applied each dexter thumb to each nasal prominence, and, with this grand hailing sign to the source of watered stock and small salaries, went forth into the wide world to seek other lines to conquer.

"We'll fight it on these lines if it takes all summer."—Many operators.

CHICAGO, July 19.—At 12 o'clock, Washington time, the main body of the army of operators in the Western Union office in this city went out on the strike.

It is estimated that over 100 operators went out. There was some cheering as they filed out but nothing boisterous.

Outside the building a great crowd had gathered to witness the departure of the operators, and there was some cheering as the head of the column of strikers made its appearance.

There are about forty, all told, left at their instruments.

BOSTON, July 19.—All the operators here but two have struck. The women operators also have gone out, but four out of the twenty-five being left.

COLUMBUS, O., July 19.—Only one man has struck in the operating rooms here thus far.

NEW YORK, July 20.—At the meeting of the operators yesterday afternoon addresses were made approving the strike and a resolution passed to abstain from the use of intoxicants during the continuance of the strike. John Campbell, of the telegraphers executive committee, received a letter from the President of the Amalgamated Iron and Steel Workers Association of Pittsburgh, wishing the telegraphers movement every success. Campbell sent a reply, saying the telegraphers would do nothing to disgrace the cause of labor, but that at the same time they were determined that their rights should be respected and their grievances redressed. Little Devereux Blake sent a letter of sympathy. District Assembly No. 2, of the Knights of Labor, of Pittsburgh, telegraphed fraternal greeting.

The general business of the Western Union Telegraph Company was in such a satisfactory condition last evening that General Eckert, the acting President, went home, as usual, to Long Branch. One of the best operators in the recent employ of the Western Union says "the outlook is bad for the boys." The fact, he says, that such a number of first class operators remained at the keys, and the places of so many others were promptly supplied, makes the situation appear to him as if the strikers were beaten on the very first day.

The only criminal act thus far reported is that a lineman cut a wire at Ashbury Park. Dispatches East, North and South show the condition of affairs similar to that described in the press dispatches from the West.

The cable lines are all fully manned, and no trouble is anticipated. The cable operators at North Sidney, Nova Scotia, held a meeting after the strike occurred, and decided to remain at their posts, and business has not been delayed.

Mr. Somerville said business had fallen off about 20 per cent to-day and this evening, which was merely the effect of the strike, and this was principally stock business.

Vice President May, of the American Rapid Telegraph Company, said they had very little delay in business, because they had at once called into active service the automatic instruments, and with these in operation he anticipated no trouble.

CINCINNATI, July 20.—Brokers and bankers felt the effects of the interruption of telegraphic communications yesterday more than any other class. One prominent broker telephoned to New York at 11 o'clock a.m. to sell certain stocks, and before he could get an answer the strike came. The firm was principally stock business. Vice President May, of the American Rapid Telegraph Company, said they had very little delay in business, because they had at once called into active service the automatic instruments, and with these in operation he anticipated no trouble.

ALF BURNET has gone to England.

MRS. LANGTRY will sail for Europe on Monday.

THE Indiana State board will consider measures for preventing a cholera visitation.

THE cattle drive this season in the southwest is expected to reach 1,000,000 head.

THE Secretary of War has been asked by Gen. Duke to permit the use of tents from the Jeffersville army depot at the Morgan Reunion.

THE Surgeon General has been notified that the ship Buteshire, from Vera Cruz, has arrived at New Orleans with six cases of yellow fever aboard.

Ex-Senator Tabor is losing money rapidly, and the prediction is that in five years he will be as poor as he was when he went across the plains in a wagon.

At Lexington, Ky., Pepper, a distiller, was fined $20 and costs for assault on Auditor's Agent Harrison, growing out of a dispute over the State whisky tax. Harrison was dismissed.

THE Philadelphia Ledger says: Trade dollars are quoted in this city at $6 and 87 cents. In New York 86 cents is the best offer for them. The brokers' selling price in both cities is nominal, there being no demand for them.

DEZENDORF has been made Chairman of the Virginia Republican Central Committee. A resolution has been adopted by the Committee condemning Arthur's administration for following the lead of Mahone, and declaring for Blaine for the Presidency.

THERE is a report that the cholera has appeared on the coast of Austria. In Cairo the number of daily deaths has risen to sixty-eight. In London measures of precaution are enjoined against the introduction of the disease into the interior towns.

WHOLESALE prices of matches have declined from $1.50 to 75 cents per gross, owing to the removal of the stamp duty. "Parlor" matches sell for more money, but there is a sharp decline in all grades, and matches which sold for retail for 15 and 20 cents per box, can now be obtained for five cents—in some places.

THE signal of the Brotherhood of Telegraphers sent out from New York, directing the strike was, "Gen. Grant dropped dead." On its reception every member of the Brotherhood left his key, and the strike was begun. The Associated Press sent out later an explanatory dispatch announcing that the General was all right.

A DESPATCH from Ashland says: The Independent to-morrow will reiterate its statement of last week, that William Neal wrote a letter to his mother, requesting her presence at Lexington, and, but for Mrs. Neal's ill health and poverty, she would have complied with the request. The lady showed the letter to several of her neighbors, which said he (Neal) had important matters to communicate to her. There is an impression here also that Neal will withdraw his plea of not guilty when his trial occurs, enter a plea of guilty and throw himself upon the mercy of the court. There are good reasons for believing that some startling developments may be expected in the case within a few weeks.

WHAT I'D DO FOR HER.

I'd swear for her—
I'd tear for her—
The Lord knows what I'd bear for her;
I'd lie for her—
I'd sigh for her—
I'd drink the Ohio river dry for her;
I'd curse for her—
Do worse for her—
I'd kick up a thundering muss for her;
I'd weep for her—
I'd leap for her—
I'd go without any sleep for her;
I'd fight for her—
I'd bite for her—
I'd walk the streets all night for her;
I'd plead for her—
I'd bleed for her—
I'd do without out my feed for her;
I'd boot for her—
I'd shoot for her—
A rival who'd come to suit for her;
I'd kneel for her—
I'd steal for her—
Such is the love I feel for her;
I'd slide for her—
I'd ride for her—
I'd swim against the wind and tide for her;
I'd try for her—
I'd cry for her—
But hang me if I'd die for her—
Or any other woman.

ABERDEEN ITEMS.

Miss Mary H. Cheesman has returned from a delightful visit at Miss Cora Fulton's.

Miss Ella Ridgeway, a most popular young lady, of Ripley, O., is visiting Mrs. Dr. B. G. Ridgeway.

Main street business men are having some necessary improvements done in the laying of new side walks.

That suburban blonde and brunet never fails to attract attention on the boulevard, when mounted on their beautiful steeds.

The Orpheus Club gave an open air concert on the boulevard several evenings ago. We were not home, thereby losing a great treat.

The public always will be opposed to having women as preachers, but the majority of husbands speak from experience when they say that women take the lead as lecturers.

They say a dead snake can be brought to life with a pint of whisky. You drink the whisky and look at the snake. It very often causes them to see more than one live snake.

The singing at the Methodist Church continues to be an attractive feature in drawing a number of gentlemen to church. There must always be some bait held out as an inducement for their appearance.

Mrs. H. — says she always believes in helping in every charitable cause, but her husband was too refuse to give towards such purposes, on the plea, "charity begin at home." And if we are not mistaken, generally remains there.

He headed it: "my dear," and that endearing letter received a speedy response. Mr. Hunter, you are mistaken if you think deer rove these woods. No doubt it was intended as a compliment to resemble a deer, but she didn't fancy the implied comparison of resembling an animal, even if it was a deer.

A respectable looking, talkative witness in a New York court of justice declared that he was acquainted with all classes of men, from lawyers up to the most respectable citizens. We are not surprised that he had such a high opinion of lawyers when they work so hard to make one believe black is white, so when a fellow goes at the back of you to shoot you in the head, they plead it is that self-defense.

A good idea to do likewise—Two young ladies were taking a rural ramble, when one exclaimed: "Oh, my, there is a snake, and you will kill right over it." Do tell us when you will conquer your enemies?" "Ah, no," she replied, "let it live and enjoy the sun. I always step over my enemies in life as I would a snake. Silent contempt is as useful a weapon, and can give as deadly a blow as any revolver."

We heard of a young lady who was in the habit of dressing principally in black and white, who, when asked by a jolly editor, "Why do you wear those colors?" You look as if you was in mourning," replied: "I am in mourning for a sweetheath who never appeared." She certainly had a true cause for mourning, her non-appearance, than if he had appeared and died. "It is better to have loved and lost, than never to have loved at all."

HIPPONA.

Life of Tom. Thumb.

The deceased was born at Bridgeport, Conn., January 3, 1837. At the age of five years he was not two feet high and weighed less than sixteen pounds, and he had grown but very little in three or four years. He had fine talents, and was remarkable for agility and symmetry, while his lively sense of the ludicrous gave him excellent success in performances suited to his character. In 1842 he was exhibited in New York, his age being eleven years. At the age of fourteen he entered the service of P. T. Barnum, and has ever since been before the public. In 1847 he visited England, and was several times exhibited to the Queen and court at Buckingham Palace; he also gave levees, and was invited to parties given by the nobility. In Paris he was successful, and gained applause as an actor. He returned to the United States in 1847, and was exhibited in the principal cities of this country and in Havana. Ten years later he again visited England. In 1863 he was married to Lavinia Warren, also a dwarf, who was born at Middleborough, Mass., in 1842, and had been placed on exhibition in 1862. Since their marriage the couple had traveled extensively in the United States and Europe.

Personal Remarks.

Prince Krapotkin, despite imprisonment and weak health, has begun an elaborate work on Finland.

It is noticed that John Bright's speeches are marked by two pleasant features—frequent allusions to children and numerous quotations from English poets, especially Byron and Milton.

It is claimed that Ex-Senator Bruce is the wealthiest colored man in this country. Among other possessions he owns two large plantations in Mississippi worth more than $100,000 each.

Colonel Ed. Richardson, of Georgia, probably the largest cotton planter in the world, has an excellent crop this year. He has about seventeen thousand acres in cotton, and if there is an average season will ship 15,000 bales.

Poached eggs and toast: Pour some boiling water into a frying pan; then break the egg into a saucer very carefully, and slide it off into the hot water. The water must not be boiling hard, or the eggs would fly in pieces. The water must be boiling hot to begin with, but afterwards merely simmer until the white is cooked so that no limp part remains; then the yolk will be sufficiently done. Toast and butter some evenly-cut slices of bread, and lay them on a plate; then with a skimmer carefully lift out the eggs, and place one on each piece of toast.—Boston Post.

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

SATURDAY EVE., JULY 21, 1883.

ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Publishers and Proprietors,
To whom Address all Communications.

THE Maysville lads who went abroad,
Will all be glad to learn,
The Jurymen made up their minds
To wind up and adjourn.
And though their escapades, no doubt,
Have pricked their conscience sore,
They'll all come home resolved to do
Just as they did before.

CAMP SAM RILEY is what the Emmet Rifles call it.

THE little steamer Katie Prather has been sold to Mr. Orla Edgington, of Abbe-deen, for $1,400.

COL. THOMAS Z. MORROW, the Republican candidate for Governor, will speak at the Court House this afternoon.

COAL is being sold in Lexington for nine and a half cents, delivered to consumers, the lowest figure ever reached.

MESSRS. WHITE & ORR during the next week will sell camp chairs at cost. They do this in honor of the camp meeting.

THE trial of John Smart for shooting Dr. Robbins, near Carlisle, a few weeks ago, has been postponed until the 30th inst.

No need of sitting on the ground and running the risk of contracting rheumatism when you can get a camp chair at cost at White & Orr's.

Rev. C. B. Hudgins will hold services at the Episcopal Church to-morrow morning at eleven o'clock and in the afternoon at five o'clock.

THE New Republican's fine frenzy might be relieved by the judicious use of a little crushed ice. It should be applied to the brain where it hurts the worst.

If you put soda in water with which you wash windows, you will find that finger marks, putty stains, etc., will be much more easily removed than if water alone is used.

STEPHEN TOLLE, who was arrested a few days ago for an aggravated assault upon Michael Kepple, at Manchester, has been released on $600 bail. Kepple is recovering from his injuries.

NEXT week during the absence of the editor, who is going to take a holiday, the BULLETIN will be edited by Mr. M. F. Marsh, who will, we are very certain, make it readable and interesting.

THE combined ages of the sixteen grand jurors aggregated 823 years. The oldest was 73, the youngest 35, and the average age 51. In addition to this they were a good looking and a level-headed set of men.

THE Robertson County Democrat, published at Mt. Olivet by Messrs. Hancock & Word, promises to be a successful venture, if we may judge from its neat appearance and the interesting news matter it contains. May it live long and prosper.

THE first degree in a new order lately organized was conferred upon Esquire M. F. Marsh at the jail yesterday by the Emmet Rifles. The ceremonies were novel and interesting. It was desired to extend the same honor to Mr. Sam. S. Riley, but with characteristic modesty, he declined the proffered attention.

THE New Republican extra containing Belvoir's confession was several hours in advance of the same information contained in the daily papers which made them rather stale reading.—New Republican.

Our neighbor ought to print its little hand-bill every day and it will then be in advance of the daily papers six times a week. Its subscribers will probably prefer it to the stale matter it prints a week later.

True to Duty.

The following complimentary letter has been sent to Gov. Blackburn by Judge Cole:

MAYSVILLE, KY., July 15, 1883.
To His Excellency Luke P. Blackburn, Governor of the State of Kentucky: In response to your orders and that of Gen. J. P. Nuckols, Adjutant General, the Emmet Rifles reported to him yesterday on the 14th instant, your orders and are now on duty, and I am confident their promptness and soldierly conduct prevented a mob here the other night. You may well be proud of the State Guards, if they are as true to their duty as Captain Fitzgerald and the men under him. I am, respectfully, A. E. COLE, Judge Fourteenth District of Kentucky.

If too late for this year the following agricultural item may help you the next: "Corn which is hill'd will blow down more readily than that which has level culture. This can be accounted for by the fact that corn roots run very near the surface, and when hills are made they are confined to the small space covered by the hill, while in level culture the roots run from one row to the other, enabling the corn to stand strong, as nature intended, and in no way liable to be blown down except by winds of unusual violence."

BULGER SENTENCED.

The Execution to Take Place in the Jail Yard September 4th.

Samuel Bulger, alias Samuel Belger, was sentenced Friday afternoon by Judge Cole, to be hung on the fourth day of next September. Bulger received his sentence of death with a smile upon his countenance. He betrayed no signs of excitement at all and did not seem to realize his situation. It was shortly after three o'clock when the Emmet Rifles, with Deputy Sheriff Alexander, Jailer Fitzgerald, and the prisoner in their midst, filed into the court room. As soon as order was restored Bulger was ordered by the court to stand up. He rose to his feet promptly. When asked if he had anything to say why the verdict of the jury should not be made the judgment of the court, he replied that he had not. Judge Cole then proceeded and sentenced him to be hung by the neck till dead, in the yard surrounding the county jail on the fourth day of September next. After he was sentenced he told the court he had one thing to ask and that was that he be granted the proper protection till the time fixed for his execution. The court assured him that he should have all the necessary protection, and the prisoner was committed to the custody of the jailer to await the execution of his sentence.

The court designated the following ten persons under the law as among the witnesses of said execution, viz: Timothy McAuliffe, Charles McAuliffe, Charles Blaine, Thomas R. Phister, C. L. Stanton, Thomas M. Green, W. P. Coons, Horace January, Dr. James Shackleford and Dr. A. G. Browning. The sheriff may under the law designate forty more witnesses of said execution.

The Churches.

Rev. S. H. Chester will preach at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday. Subject, morning and evening: "A Renewed Earth, the Final Home of the Redeemed."

There will be preaching at the Christian Church, in Washington, next Sunday afternoon at four o'clock sharp, by Rev. A. N. Gilbert. Subject: "What is Christian Baptism?" Everybody welcome.

Rev. S. B. Alderson, pastor, will preach at the Presbyterian Chapel, East Maysville, to-morrow morning and evening. Subject of the morning sermon: "Paul's Meditation in Arabia." Subject of the evening lecture: "The Sin of Achon."

Rev. M. D. Reynolds will preach at the M. E. Church, South, Sunday, on the following themes: Morning: "A Christian, the Workmanship of God." The subject involves the ideas of what is a Christian, how he was made and what he was made for. Evening: "Two Dead Cities as Witnesses."

Rev. A. N. Gilbert will occupy the pulpit of the Christian Church as usual on next Sunday morning and night. In the morning he will preach on Christ's reply to the penitent thief: "This day thou shalt be with me in Paradise." The subject at night is: "The Prince of Peace." Services one hour.

All Sunday school workers and those interested in the cause are requested to be present at the Sunday School Convention which will be held at Orangeburg, Friday, August 3rd, beginning at ten o'clock, a.m. Bring your baskets with you, so that none will have to leave the grounds for dinner. We hope to have a profitable as well as a pleasant time.

D. R. BULLOCK, Secretary.

MR. SALOMON has been giving us some of his impressions of Maysville. He says. I think Maysville and her people have changed very much since I lived here eighteen years ago. There have been several handsome business houses, and a number of modern residences erected, and altogether it has more of a business appearance than formerly, yet it has with all its improvements retained a great deal of old, and in fact less, liberal ideas than it used to have. Quite a number of my former friends think and say that I ought not to have come here to introduce what I consider the greatest improvement of the age, the electric light. Their argument is that it will injure the Gas Company. The idea is erroneous and absurd. On the contrary, it will be beneficial to the Company and to the people also. The citizens will have a better appreciation of the value of light. Gas is in its infancy in Maysville. There should be improvements and repairs made, and when this is done gas could be sold at a lower rate, and thus the consumption might be doubled, as it could be made useful for both heating and cooking purposes. At the time I was raising stock for the gas works here there were some dealers in coal oil who objected to the introduction of gas for fear it would injure their trade, and yet they are all prospering to-day, and a much larger quantity is used now than then. It will be the same way with gas. The electric light ought to be introduced here, and will be if the citizens will take the stock, which I am very sure will be a paying investment.

PERSONALS.

Execution of the Lexington Rapist.

Dan Timberlake, colored, convicted of a brutal and fiendish rape upon the body of Maggie Lawson, a little colored girl, about nine years old, was hanged at Lexington on Friday morning. On last Wednesday afternoon two gentlemen called on Timberlake, and he made the following confession, with the request that they should not reveal it until after he was gone:

"I was 44 years old on the 18th day of last June. I have been married twice, the first time to Jane Price; the second time to Martha Smith. Had no children by either one. I had two children by Eaura Dupree, both dead. I lived in Jessamine county seven years; worked with Sparks and Brown white in that county. I served in the Federal army 22 months. I have been knowing the girl, Maggie Lawson, five years. She is well formed and the very kind of a girl to ruin a man. She ruined me and herself, too; and before I could think, I was locked up in jail and sentenced to be hung. My race is going to the dogs. I don't know what will become of them. They go to church to do their devilmint. I never was tried for any crime before, and when they arrested me I was scared so bad I did not know what I was doing during the trial. I have always tried to live a pious life, but when at church, during preaching, I had my eye on the women. The most of the devilment done by the colored people is at church. I have tried to live a christian for twenty-one years, having joined the church before I was grown. But I have not lived as I ought. Thousands of people who belong to the church have done what I have done, but they never was caught. The night I committed that awful crime I had the devil in me somehow, and I don't know what made me do as I did. I only had one drink of whisky, and I know I was not drunk. I tell you when a man runs after women all the time, there is no telling what he will do. I would not do so again for the world. I hear Maggie's screams every night and sometimes I think the Lord will never forgive me. I want you to tell the people not to do as I did. I hope this will be a warning to everybody. I know my time is short, and it won't do me any good to tell a lie. I am guilty of that awful crime, but I don't want you to say anything about it, until after I am dead."

At half-past eleven the procession moved through the corridor of the jail and to the scaffold. Timberlake walked up to the steps of the scaffold without flinching. On the scaffold with him were the preachers, J. R. Jewell, G. W. Muir, Sheriff Rodes, Deputies Rogers, Lloyd, Frazier, and Capt. Steve Sharp. Dan, sat down while fervent prayers were offered for his salvation. At 11:45 a.m. Timberlake stepped forward on the scaffold and spoke about as follows:

"A good many people are here looking at me, and want to know if I am guilty of the charge against me. I am about to die, and they say a man about to die will tell the truth. I know I will. I am not guilty of the crime I am charged with. This has all been made up against me, and the last words I have to say on earth are: 'I am not guilty, not guilty, not guilty.'

The noose was put around his neck, and the black cap drawn over his face at 11:44 o'clock, and at 11:55 a.m., he fell through the trap. His neck was broken by the fall, and at 12 m., life was pronounced extinct. His body was cut down by Judge George Muir. There was about one hundred persons present to witness the hanging.

EGYPT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 19.—No news can be secured from the English camps near Cairo and the James. Latest reports of two days ago lead to a great deal of anxiety for the condition of the troops.

Cholera has become epidemic here. It is not known how many persons have died of the malady within the past twenty-four hours, but the number is believed to be large.

The cholera as it rages in Alexandria seems to be fatal in even a greater proportion of cases than it is in Cairo, where the deaths already are over one hundred a day.

When the citizens awoke this morning they found that the sanitary authorities had established a cordon around the city during the night. The discovery made the people aware of the true state of things, and the city has been in a state of panic all day.

At this hour, 5 p.m., thousands of people fill the streets, burdened with baggage and engaged in efforts to get through the cordon and flee from Egypt. The cholera is steadily making headway along all the recognized routes of travel.

It went from Port Said to Ismailia, thence to Cairo, and thence hither, although before it reached Port Said it had existed at points on the direct line between here and that port. The travel, however, was toward Port Said.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, July 19.—Egypt has accepted the offer of England to send twelve physicians into the cholera infected districts for the purpose of inspection and observation, and also to lend such local aid as advice and experience can give.

The appointment by the French Government of M. Waddington, at the present time, as Ambassador to St. James is regarded as a pacific movement on the part of the Republican party, and one which will lead to peace.

The picturesque town of Bedford is in the greatest excitement over a thrilling lawn tennis tragedy. A party were playing lawn tennis near the ship Inn at Saint Cuthberts, situated in the center of the town. Among the players were Mr. Devore, a young army officer, and Miss McKay, an exceedingly pretty young lady of twenty. Suddenly and without any apparent provocation Devore pulled out a revolver and shot Miss McKay dead on the spot. Before he could be seized, he put the revolver to his own ears and blew his brains out. It is believed that jealousy was the motive of the crime.

LONDON, July 19.—The Local Government Board have issued a memorandum enjoining measures of precaution against the introduction of cholera into cities and towns of Great Britain.

IRELAND.

DUBLIN, July 19.—Four farmers have been arrested near Newry for beating nearly to death a man who took a farm from which the previous tenant had been evicted.
